Thanks to the generosity of the American Society of Naturalists (ASN) the Rocky Mountain Biological Laboratory received a Regional Award for its annual GREEBS regional meeting. This allows us to provide a 50% discounted housing/conference rate for student and/or postdoctoral ASN members. If you are a member of ASN please make sure to indicate that on your registration in order to receive your discount for the conference days September 16-18, 2016. The discount does not apply to extra nights or family members. If you are not yet a member and would like to sign up before registering for the GREEBS meeting go to: <http://www.amnat.org/membership/beamember.html>
