

RMBL DOCENT

Project leader, contact information

Rebecca White and Dick Davis

docents@rmbll.org

General project description

This is a public education position educating and informing visitors and guests. RMBL Docents must be capable of a moderate hike from the visitor center in Gothic to Judd Falls and the Judd Falls trailhead (approx 2 miles one way). RMBL Docents will receive special perks (see bottom of page) in exchange for their time commitment.

Tasks

Docents are responsible for:

- attending the RMBL Docent Orientation and completing training
- attending an RMBL Visitor Center tour
- educating and informing visitors
- being familiar with the local roads, trails, etc. as well as the Gothic town site

Number of volunteers needed

14 volunteers

Meeting place and time

RMBL Visitor Center, time as scheduled

Time commitment

A minimum commitment of 16-32 hours served between June 19 and August 19. Each shift is at least two hours long within the 10 am - 4 pm time frame, 1 time per week for the 8 week program.

Special requirements and things to bring (e.g. age limits, hiking/physical ability, volunteer-provided equipment, such as binoculars, etc.)

We're looking for volunteers ages 18 and up, excited to educate and inform RMBL Visitors in Gothic and at Judd Falls and along the Judd Falls trail. Volunteers should bring what they need to be comfortable outside (e.g. water, snacks, sunscreen, insect repellent, a wide-brimmed hat, comfortable clothes and shoes, a rain jacket, etc.). This position does require training and a time commitment.

Perks:

A meal at the RMBL dining hall for each shift worked

A daily coffee at the Science Café

$75 in retail RMBL merchandise (Apparel, Headwear, Books, etc.)

Opportunities to participate in citizen scientist programming with RMBL researchers
